TRE BICCHIERI
“3 GLASSES”
GAMBERO ROSSO

“Gambero Rosso recently released the recipients of its coveted 2014 Tre Bicchieri awards for quality Italian wines. Tre Bicchieri (“Three Glasses”) wines are deemed to be the best in Italy.

“Wines that achieve an average panel score of more than 90 points are awarded Tre Bicchieri status...A Tre Bicchieri award is a really big deal for a winery; it singles out a wine — and by extension the winery that produced it — as being one of Italy’s best. It is a cause for celebration at the winery in that it is a validation of the winemaker’s and the winery’s craftsmanship.”

“This is a perfumed and structured Chianti Classico with lavender, fresh mushroom and blackberries on the nose and palate. Full body, fine tannins and a racy finish.”

THE WINE ADVOCATE

“The 2010 Chianti Classico Riserva straddles a fine line between modernity and traditionalism. Aromas are chiseled and defined with bold cherry, Spanish cedar, moist tobacco and pressed red flower. The fruit layering is rich, but never over-the-top. In fact, the wine feels downright elegant, tight and pristine overall. It’s a pure expression of Sangiovese.”
Monica Larner, August 2013
