

PIERRE SPARR®

2021 ALSACE ONE, AOC ALSACE

Origins / The Alsace region of France is known throughout the world for its lovely, dry white wines. Vineyards were first planted in this narrow valley during the height of the Roman Empire. Maison Pierre Sparr was established by the Sparr family in 1680 in the desirable Haut Rhin. Today quality remains Pierre Sparr's primary focus and the winery consistently exceeds AOC guidelines.

Appellation / AOC Alsace

Varietal Composition / 40% Muscat, 40% Riesling, 20% Pinot Gris

Vineyard Region / From South to North of Alsace (Guebwiller to Marlenheim)

Vineyard Size / 28 hectares (69.19 acres)

Soil / Granite, limestone, gneiss, chalk & clay

Average Vine Age / 25 years

Harvest / End of September

Yields / 75 hectoliters per hectare (5.6 tons per acre)

Vinification / Pressing in whole grapes. Traditional vinification: alcoholic fermentation under temperature control.

Aging / Stainless-steel tanks

Alcohol / 12.5%

Residual Sugar / 8.0 g/L

Tasting Notes / Soft, light yellow hue in the glass. On the nose, Alsace One is very expressive, with intense and elegant pear, apricot and raspberry notes. The palate follows with fresh fruit flavors; full-bodied and well-structured, a dynamic acidity plays around the tongue. This lively, compelling wine blends Riesling's freshness, Muscat's fruitiness and Pinot Gris' length.

Aging Potential / Three to four years
